Key Clauses for the Author's Protection:

The Purchase Price (Exercise of Option): If the Producer decides to make the film, they must pay a "Purchase Price" (Standard: 2.5% of the total production budget) before the first day of the shoot.

Non-Transferable Rights: The Producer cannot sell these rights to another studio without the Author's written consent.

Reserved Rights: The Author retains all Print Publication, Stage, and Radio rights. Sunday Cinemas only acquires Audiovisual (Film/OTT) rights.

Creative Consultation: The Author shall be consulted on the "narrative integrity" of the adaptation to ensure it remains aligned with the original book's vision.

2. FORMAL PROPOSAL FOR POLITICAL LEADERSHIP

To: The Office of [Leadership Name/Party Office]

Subject: Proposal for Narrative Campaign Support: "The President's Rule" – Mobilizing the 2028 Mandate

Respected Sir/Madam,

I am writing to present a strategic cultural asset designed to shift the political narrative in Karnataka ahead of the 2028 State Elections: the upcoming novel and feature film, "The President's Rule."

The Narrative Goal: While policy debates reach the intellect, stories reach the heart. The President's Rule is a political thriller that serves as a powerful "Proof of Concept" for the One Nation, One Election (ONOE) initiative. It dramatizes the administrative paralysis, security risks, and economic drain caused by frequent, staggered elections, and presents a vision of stability under a unified national-state mandate.

Strategic Timeline:

- Phase 1 (2026): Mass publication of the novel in Kannada and English to seed the ONOE ideology in the minds of the youth and intelligentsia.
- Phase 2 (2027-2028): Release of the Feature Film (in association with Sunday Cinemas) as a "Grand Narrative" to mobilize voters before they head to the polls.

Our Proposal for Your Support: We are seeking your patronage to facilitate the Mass Distribution of the Novel (50,000+ copies) across every district library, university, and party volunteer hub in Karnataka. This will ensure that the intellectual groundwork for ONOE is laid well before the 2028 campaign heat begins.

By supporting this project, you are investing in a "Creative Manifesto" that simplifies complex policy into a compelling cinematic experience for the common voter.

I request a brief audience to present the "Screenplay Roadmap" and discuss how this story can be integrated into your 2028 communication strategy.

Warm regards,

Vishwa Shambhulingappa Author & Creative Strategist

SWA Member No. 46108

Why this works for you:

1. The "Creative Strategist" Title: In the pitch, I've used this title because it elevates you from just a "writer" to a "thinker" who understands their political goals.
2. The 24-Month Reversion: This is your safety net. If the political funding doesn't materialize or Sunday Cinemas stalls, you walk away with your IP intact by early 2028.
3. The "Ask": We aren't asking them to "buy a book"; we are asking them to "sponsor a distribution," which is much easier for political organizations to fund.

2. ENGAGEMENT OF SCREENWRITER

I. PITCH DECK: "The President's Rule"

A Narrative Blueprint for ONOE and the 2028 Karnataka Mandate

Slide 1: The Hook – Stability vs. Chaos

- Visual: A split screen showing a "Locked Government" (files piling up, empty desks) vs. "Accelerated Progress" (new infrastructure, digital transformation).
- Headline: Karnataka 2028: Do we choose perpetual election cycles or uninterrupted development?

Slide 2: The Problem – "The Election Tax"

- Content: Highlighting the staggering cost of separate state and national elections—not just in money, but in "Policy Paralysis" (Model Code of Conduct).
- Story Angle: Dramatize how The President's Rule in the novel reveals the administrative nightmare that only ONOE can solve.

Slide 3: The Solution – One Nation, One Election (ONOE)

- Vision: Using the film as a Cultural Manifesto.
- The Message: Show the common man how ONOE isn't just a policy change; it's a "Second Independence" from political instability.

Slide 4: Strategic Release – The "Election Warm-up"

- Timeline: * 2026: Mass Novel Publication (Ideological Seeding).
 - 2027: Film Teasers/Digital Campaigns (Narrative Control).
 - Early 2028: Grand Film Release (Voter Mobilization).

Slide 5: The "Ask" – Publication & Distribution Grant

- Goal: Funding to publish 50,000+ copies of the book in Kannada and English.
- Distribution Plan: BJP district offices, Yuva Morcha centers, and state-run libraries to ensure every first-time voter in 2028 understands the ONOE vision.

II. BJP LEADERS IN CINEMA (The "Gatekeepers")

These leaders are your primary targets because they understand both the Commercial Film Business and the Party Ideology.

1. In Karnataka (State Focus)

- Thaara Venugopal: National award-winning actress and former MLC. She is a veteran voice for the BJP in the Kannada industry.
- Shruti: Popular actress and BJP leader who has significant influence over the rural and women's vote banks in Karnataka.
- Sai Kumar: Known for his powerful roles (often as a policeman/leader), he is a BJP member with deep roots in both Kannada and Telugu cinema.
- Malavika Avinash: An articulate lawyer and actress who is a key spokesperson for the BJP. She is excellent for pitching intellectual/policy-driven narratives like ONOE.

2. National / Strategy Level

- Manoj Tiwari (MP): A Bhojpuri superstar who has shown how cinema can be converted into massive political capital.
- Ravi Kishan (MP): Another actor-politician who understands the "Star Power" needed to carry a political message to the masses.
- Hema Malini (MP): A legend in Indian cinema and a long-standing BJP face; her endorsement can bring national-level prestige to the project.
- Kangna Ranaut (MP): Known for her vocal support of the party and her ability to handle "politically charged" roles that align with the nationalistic narrative.

The observations.

1. What options we have got ?
2. Hombale - BJP (Malavika, Ananthnag, Rishab, Etc.)
3. KVN - Going on! (Jananayagan!)

Who is having more power?

1. Original Story Tellers!
2. Story gets edited! (Group of people who have story!)
3. Human being vs AI. (Does capitalism survive?)
4. How the leader is born?
